Nixon's Vote Barely Saves Flexible Parity

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—A tie-breaking vote by Vice President Nixon last night narrowly saved the administration's flexible farm price support program on wheat.

The 46-45 vote to reject a higher, rigid support level, contrasted sharply with the 54-41 tally the day before on supports for cotton, corn and peanuts.

In addition to Nixon, 34 Republicans and 11 Democrats supported the administration stand, while 11 Republicans and 34 Democrats voted against it.

The Nixon tally knocked out a special system of rigid price supports proposed for "quality milling wheat" and set off an angry parliamentary row that lasted for hours.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.), who challenged decisions of Nixon and the Senate parliamentarian on the vice president's right to vote, in this particular parliamentary situation, promised to continue his battle Monday.

The Senate uproar over the wheat vote came after Senate clerks made a mistake and announced defeat of the higher supports by a 46-45 margin.

Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) managed to get Sen. Green (D-R.I.), who had voted against high wheat supports, to switch his vote.

But a recount showed only 96 votes cast with the actual tally then a 45-45 tie. Nixon broke it by voting to knock out the higher wheat supports.

The action, if sustained by the House, would leave the support price on wheat at the $1.81 a bushel fixed for this year's crop instead of raising it to about $2.26.

Congress Is Place to Learn Things

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP)—Did you ever eat a boiled peanut?

Can you name the American town that charges people $5 for making an after-dinner speech?

Do you know what the Irishman said to the recruiting sergeant?

No? Come to Congress, then. You'll learn all sorts of no-doubt fascinating facts — maybe even quality for the $64,000 question — without so much as leaving your seat.

In one session this week, as the Congressional Record dutifully reports, a House member who kept his ears open could hear from a fellow member that:

Ravenswood, W. Va., tosses an annual fund-raising dinner "for which everyone pays $5 whether he comes to eat, sing, to dance, to cook, to wash dishes, or if he is the honored speaker."

Rep. Burnside (D-W.Va.) is the authority for this one. He says the accumulated $5 bills have bought the town all manner of things, from baseball uniforms to football bleachers. Sen. Barkley (D-Ky.) is in Ravenswood's corner too. He commands upwards of $1,000 a speech on the lecture platform but he happily forked over $5 for the privilege of addressing Ravenswood.

This kind of money is not peanuts — a fact that may or may not have reminded Rep. Grant (D-Ala.) that this is National Peanut Week. Grant observed the occasion by asking his fellow lawmakers:

"Have you ever eaten boiled peanuts? If not, you have really missed something."

Grant didn't boil any peanuts to prove his point but another friend of the peanut, Rep. Abbt (D-Va.) did the next best thing. He placed a supply of roasted peanuts in the House cloakrooms for members to munch.

It took Rep. Yates (D-Ill.), however, to unshuck the story about the Irishman.

Yates, though he's only 46, is concerned about discrimination against older people in employment.

"Men and women," he said, "are lying about their age today to get jobs — like the Irishman who burst into the recruiting office the day after Pearl Harbor and said he wanted to enlist. 'How old are you?' asked the recruiting sergeant. 'Forty-one,' replied the applicant. 'I'm sorry, I can't use you,' said the sergeant. 'We can't take people who are over 38.'"

"Next day the Irishman was back. 'Sergeant,' he said, 'I made a mistake yesterday. My age is 38. Sure, it's my old mother what's 41.'"

Since 1900 the number of Americans over 65 years old has quadrupled while the total population of the nation has doubled.

TO MAKE HER MARK—Not just any pencil will do for the collection of Mrs. Edward P. Doshier of Fort Worth, Tex. To rate entry, it must be oddly shaped or bear an unusual inscription. Why such tough requirements? Mrs. Doshier is going to Nigeria, West Africa, where she hopes to teach. She believes the native children will be so fascinated with her unusual "magic" writers that they will enjoy using them and learning about other things. Some of her pencils are filled with things to eat. Others can be used as cigaret lighters, hammers, whiskbrooms and walking canes. Mrs. Doshier is going to Africa with her husband, a doctor, who will work in a hospital in Nigeria.

Riverside Race Group Attacks Southland

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The old Riverside Greyhound Club has opened another attack on the Southland Racing Corp., new owners of a franchise to operate a dog track at West Memphis.

Riverside's attorney, Harry Ponder of Walnut Ridge, yesterday asked Pulaski Chancery Court to void the operating permit which the state Racing Commission granted under orders from another court to Southland last Friday night.

Ponder also asked the Chancery Court to enjoin the Racing Commission from approving any meeting dates for Southland's new track, tentatively scheduled to begin a 40-day race meet April 18.

The second part of Riverside's request came as a surprise since Racing Commission member Ned Stewart, an attorney, previously has said dog track did not have to obtain commission approval of racing dates.

Riverside's latest moves in its running fight with Southland were in the form of amendments to a suit which asked an injunction to prevent the Racing Commission from licensing Southland's track, Chancery Sam Rorex issued on that suit, but the order was set aside by the Arkansas Supreme Court.

The Racing Commission granted the operating permit at the order of Chancery Court Judge W. Leon Smith. Judge Smith, acting on a complaint by Southland, ruled that the commission exceeded its authority when it rejected the new track's original application for a franchise.

Atty. Gen. Tom Gentry, official counsel for the commission, has filed notice that he will appeal the decision. However, it was Gentry who obtained the Supreme Court order dismissing the Rorex injunction, and thus left the Racing Commission with no alternative except to comply with Judge Smith's order.

In asking that Southland's permit be declared void, Ponder argued that only Riverside holds a valid franchise to race dogs at West Memphis.

Both the terms of the Riverside franchise and state law provide that no two dog tracks may be operated within 15 miles of each other. Southland's plant is within the radius restricted to Riverside.

However, Riverside hasn't operated since 1941. The grandstand at its track burned several years ago, and it recently was revealed that the plant site had been sold.

OPPORTUNITY FOR SCOUT
NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., (UP)—Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, Chief Scout Executive of the Boy Scouts of America, is looking for a Boy Scout to serve as junior scientific aide in Antarctica during the International Geophysical Year, 1957-58.

Schuck, who said Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd expressed a "keen desire" to have a Boy Scout on the expedition, sent application forms yesterday to the nation's 338 local Boy Scout councils.

Court Asked to Make Alabama Admit Negro

By The Associated Press

The only Negro ever to attend the University of Alabama wants the courts to order school officials to return her to the classes from which she was expelled.

An attorney for Autherine Lucy yesterday asked Judge H. Hobart Grooms of Federal District Court at Birmingham, Ala., to overrule her expulsion Feb. 29 by the university's board of trustees.

Grooms said a hearing date would be set later.

The 26-year-old former school teacher was expelled only a few hours after Grooms had ordered her re-admitted by March 5. At the time of this order, Miss Lucy was under suspension for her own safety and the safety of others after three days of rioting on the campus. She had entered the university Feb. 1.

Whether Miss Lucy actually will seek to return to the university, however, was beclouded in a television interview in New York City last night. Miss Lucy said in the interview that she may live in Texas after her marriage to a divinity student and that the University of Texas would be "an appropriate place" to continue her studies.

She said no date had been set for her marriage to Hugh L. Foster, but that they probably would live at Powell, Tex.

Her interviewer asked if she thought she could enter the University of Texas "without creating a stir," and the former Alabama coed replied "I would hope so."

She said at an earlier press conference that she had received offers of scholarships from 10 colleges in the United States and five from abroad. Encouragement came last night from the University of Texas when the student assembly adopted a resolution "welcoming" Negroes to the school.

The resolution welcomed "the enrollment of all eligible students... without regard to race, creed or color." It came soon after officials at the university announced that housing, owned and operated by the school will continue on a segregated basis.

TAIPEI, Formosa. — (UP)—T. F. Tsiang received a hero's welcome here today for casting the Nationalist Chinese veto which kept Outer Mongolia out of the United Nations.

He told newsmen on his arrival at the airport here that the veto, the first ever cast by Nationalist China, had a small but not insignificant effect on the future status of the world body.

Tsiang said Red China "definitely" would not be admitted to the United Nations this year.

EDINBURGH, Scotland. — (UP)—"I was only doing my duty," said 22-year-old James Bonnar yesterday when he pleaded guilty to distributing a handbill calling for Scotsmen to "rise and throw off the English yoke."

"Wall, I'm doing mine," said the judge, and fined him $5.00.

LONDON. — (UP)—The British government has stockpiled 297,000 gallons of castor oil but it will not say why.

Under questioning in the House of Commons yesterday, Board of Trade President Peter Thorneycroft would say only that the stock is for "strategic considerations," which he prefer not to reveal.

BUENOS AIRES. — (UP)—Dr. Jessie Wright, American polio specialist, and Marvin Glasser, of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, arrive here from Washington today to confer with health officials about the polio epidemic.

A U. S. Air Force Globemaster transport landed yesterday with 21 iron lungs, the gift of the American people to aid Argentina in its fight against the disease.

TAIPEI, Formosa. — (UP)—Communist Chinese paratroops from Central China landed on the Chushan Archipelago south of Shanghai in war games during late February, it was reported yesterday.

RIO DE JANEIRO. — (UP)—The I. G. Farbenfabriken Bayer firm of Germany announced yesterday that it will erect four chemical plants at Belfort Roxo, 25 miles from here.

BUENOSAIRE. — (UP)—Tenders for $250 million worth of oil well drilling equipment and pipeline construction will be advertised in U. S. and European newspapers next week, informed sources said yesterday.

They said pipelines are needed urgently to bring oil from the Neuquen and Salta fields into consumption markets, chiefly Buenos Aires.

TOKYO. — (UP)—Former ambassador to the United States Sadao Iguchi said he found a policy of "anti-Americanism" here on his return from the United States, the Asahi newspaper reported today.

He said such a policy might be "necessary" to push Japanese demands, but that it should be tempered.

He agreed Japan's policy must be pro-Japan first.

"However," he said, "in the sense that Japan's foreign policy must have the United States as its large, central axis, I am not opposed to such a foreign policy even if it is labeled uncompromisingly pro-United States."

Sitdown Strike in Courthouse

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A Middle-town woman's sitdown strike in the Butler County Courthouse has ended but the threat of legal repercussions still remained today.

After sitting for 30 hours outside the office of County Building Commissioner Randall Coning, Mrs. Thomas Cooney gave up and went home at the insistence of her husband.

Mrs. Cooney took up her vigil Wednesday in protest against the issuance of a permit for erection of a one-story concrete block building in Dixie Heights, a residential suburb of nearby Middletown. She claimed that Clinton Centers, the builder, planned to use the building for business purposes in violation of the building code.

The delegation is sponsored by the National Council of Churches and headed by its president, Dr. Eugene Carson Blake. It was to fly from New York International airport at p.m. EST on a KLM Royal Dutch Airliner and arrive in the Russian capital "in time for church on Sunday."

The group will be guests of Patriarch Alexei of the Russian Orthodox Church but will meet also with representatives of other Protestant churches. A Russian church delegation will return the visit, coming to the United States in June.

The delegation of U.S. ministers and laymen is the first so broadly representative of American Protestantism to visit the Soviet Union.

With Russian church leaders they have agreed to an agenda for discussion which will include such topics as the roles of the churches in the two countries in promoting world peace, the freedom of the churches, Christian theology and education, and the relations between churches in the two nations.

In addition to Balek the delegation members are: Paul B. Anderson, member of the Congregational Christian church and associate executive secretary of the international committee of YMCA; the Rev. Dr. Roswell B. Barnes, a Presbyterian, associated general secretary, National Council of Churches; the Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president United Lutheran Church in America; the Rev. Dr. Herbert George, Newton Center, Mass., Baptist, president of the American Theological Seminary; Bishop D. Ward Nichols, Episcopal District of the African Methodist Episcopal church; Charles Coolidge Parlin, of Englewood, N.J., New York attorney and Methodist layman; the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, president of the Protestant Episcopal church and former president of the National Council; the Rev. Dr. Walter W. Van Kirk, a Methodist, executive director, department of International Affairs of the National Council. Accompanying the delegation as an aide is Donald C. Biles, executive director of the council's public relations office.

WASHINGTON. — Vice President Nixon probably never had any doubt about what he wanted to do — just keep on being vice president another four years — until President Eisenhower asked him to think it over.

Why should he have to think it over? He is a politician, and he'd be on a golden political road if he won again this year.

In 1960 he would be a major contender for the Republican presidential nomination. And if Eisenhower should die between next November's election and 1960 Nixon would be president.

The Republican party would then be almost certain to run him for president four years from now. What's his alternative, since he is both a politician and ambitious?

If Nixon stepped aside and the Republicans won this year, Eisenhower could give him a high government job, perhaps in the Cabinet.

But from a political view Nixon would then have less claim on the Republican nomination for president in 1960 than if he had served another four years as vice president.

"The only thing I have asked him to do," Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday, "is to chart out his own course and tell me what he would like to do. I have never gone beyond that."

Eisenhower himself has declined to say whether he wants Nixon again although this by itself can't be taken as evidence Eisenhower doesn't want him. But while Nixon has strong Republican support he also reportedly has some strong opposition within the party.

Nothing has happened to show any reason why Nixon wouldn't want the vice presidential nomination this year just as much as he did four years ago, or even more.

His chances of being re-elected look just as good in 1956 as in 1952, perhaps better, since Eisenhower shows amazing popularity.

Nixon, in his speeches in 1952 and during the congressional campaign of 1954, said things about the Democrats which they apparently will neither forgive nor forget. They have made him a prime target.

One thing is sure: If Nixon doesn't run again, the Democrats will have one less target in the 1956 campaign. For that reason some Republicans may feel that Nixon off the ticket is more of an asset than Nixon on it.

WASHO IS HE
CHICAGO, (UP)—Mr. and Mrs. Mildred Couzin got the folk of their lives when they drove past a lot where they planned to build their dream house — someone already was building a house on their land.

They checked and found that the builder should have been constructing the house on the adjoining lot. At last report, it still was undecided whether the erring builder would have to move the unfinished house or whether the Douzins would build on the other lot instead.

SCREENWRITERS PICKED THE BEST
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Screenwriters at their eighth annual awards dinner last night voted "Mr. Roberts," "Marty" and "Love Me or Leave Me" as the best written movies of 1955.

The Writers Guild of America award for the best comedy writing went to Frank Nugent and Joshua Logan for "Mr. Roberts."

DEMOCRATIC SYMBOL
LANDOVER, Md., (UP)—Democrats looking for a live and kicking party symbol can get one from salesman William E. Hawes.

Hawes put 61 donkeys on sale today. He said he bought them in Mexico as an election-year investment.

DOWN-TO-EARTH STEWARDESS — Stewardess service, which glamorized air travel, has come to bus life service between San Francisco and Los Angeles, Calif. It's Continental Trailways' answer to decreasing patronage. Helen Voss, one of the line's 10 stewardesses, is shown making two passengers "feel at home" on her bus. Stewardesses serve refreshments, heat baby's bottle and supply pillows, blankets and magazines. Bus service also includes soft music, reserved seats, rest rooms, outlets for electric razors.

Seamster Releases Slayer on Bond

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The release on bond of slayer Bill Smith from the penitentiary, while his life sentence for murder is appealed, was approved yesterday by Chief Justice Lee Seamster of the Arkansas Supreme Court.

Justice Seamster overruled Circuit Judge John M. Golden, who presided at Smith's trial and had refused to authorize an appeal bond.

Smith, of El Dorado, was convicted in Dallas Circuit Court of first degree murder for the fatal beating of Vernon (Buck) Layne, his onetime partner in the live-stock business.

In granting a petition by Smith's attorneys for the bond, Justice Seamster ruled that sureties on the bond must be approved by Dallas County Sheriff Reece A. Parham.

The following students will attend the meeting: Marion McQueen, Lanora Messer, Sue Moses, Laura Rowe, Melba Russell, Nancy Cox, June Evans, Sue May, Vivian Light, Bertone Cornelius, Billy Dawn Franks, Barbara Powell, Donna Evans, Doris Robinson, Anita Burson, Claudia McCorkle, Jo Ann Roberts, Judy Watkins, Betty Rexroat, Velma Jo Reese, Judy Arnold, Vivian Tonnemaker, Patricia Henderson, Janelle Warren, Jewel Shope, Quetta Smith.

Mrs. Hamilton Hanegan, advisor, and Miss Nina Hawthorne and Mrs. Opal Rowe, practice teachers, will accompany the girls to Little Rock on a school bus.

Dulles to Talk With India on U. S. Relations

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles arrived in India's capital today amid hopes his talks with Prime Minister Nehru would bolster sagging Indian-American relations. But few expected any major change in either country's policy would result.

Observers were apprehensive that Dulles' role in the recent SEATO endorsement of Pakistan's demand for a U.N. plebiscite in the bitterly disputed state of Kashmir would have a damaging effect on the talks.

However, Indian resentment after the SEATO action appeared subsiding somewhat.

Dulles flew here from Karachi, where with the other seven foreign ministers of the SEATO Southeast Asia Treaty Organization nations he agreed the future of Kashmir should be settled by a U.N. plebiscite or direct negotiations between Pakistan — a SEATO member — and India.

India has steadily opposed the plebiscite. Dulles, never popular in India, was the main target of Indian papers. They viewed him as the prime mover for SEATO's Kashmir statement.

Informed sources stressed that the Dulles-Nehru talks would emphasize noncontroversial ways to improve American — India relations, with probably only passing reference to such continuing points of discord as SEATO, Formosa and arms aid to Pakistan.

The sources said Nehru and Dulles probably would concentrate on areas of agreement, particularly American aid to India. They speculated that this might include a joint reevaluation of the aid program to make the United States a greater partner in India's second five-year plan starting April 1.

Strike Baffles Negotiators
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Westinghouse Electric Corp. strike defied into its 14th day today with company, union and government mediators apparently all uncertain of what peace move to try next.

Company negotiators returned to Pittsburgh last night, saying they had no plans now for further bargaining.

A government-proposed peace plan submitted last Saturday was accepted without reservation by the company, Tuesday but the union, refusing an outright yes or no reply, said it wanted somewhat better terms. The company called that a rejection.

Officials of the federal mediation service said they had not learned from James B. Carey, president of the striking International Union of Electrical Workers, precisely what further concessions he wants.

The theme of the convention will be "We Are Ten-What Then." Mrs. Charles Knight, past national president of FHA, will be the guest speaker. One of the highlights of the meeting will be "Life in Other Countries" presented by a group of foreign students who are attending the University of Arkansas.

Flood Waters Push Down the Allegheny

PITTSBURGH, Pa., (UP)—A wall of flood waters pushed down stream on the swollen Allegheny river today toward the Allegheny golden triangle of Pittsburgh where it was expected to crest two feet above flood stage late this afternoon.

River forecasters said Pittsburgh's golden triangle would not be seriously affected when flood stage reaches the area unless more rain or snow poured into the swollen stream.

The general flooding stretched for 228 miles upstream. Floodwaters were so high at Salamanca the city was nearly divided.

Boats patrolled the inundated area and 65 families were evacuated. The flood waters crippled the municipal water plant and the western end of the city had only a trickle of gas after a main line burst under the water pressure.

Damage to the city's homes and businesses was estimated at more than $1 million. Mayor James J. Crowley called the flood "the worst in the city's history."

Warren, Pa., was virtually isolated by the rising river water which spread to a depth of 4 to 6 feet in the northern half of the town.

Some 2,000 persons in Warren alone were forced from their homes and about 100 patients were evacuated from the general hospital in an emergency movement which utilized farm tractors, moving vans and other equipment.

NO RED LIGHT
SANTA MONICA, Calif., (UP)—A judge fined Earl R. Jones $100 on reckless driving charges yesterday because he refused to move his car on police orders.

Police said Jones wouldn't move because he was "waiting for the red light to change." The red light, they said, was the warning light on a police car parked near the scene of a fire and had blocked the path of emergency vehicles.

THE COMPANY AND THE UNION
The company and the union are still far apart. Representatives of the 2,000 striking operators and maintenance men have asked for a 20-cent increase in the $9.00 hourly wage—10 cent immediately and 10 cent on July 1 in a one-year contract.

The company's "final offer," since withdrawn, was an 18-cent increase spread through a three-year contract.

Violence in Tunisia Jars French Officials

By JOSEPH E. DYMAN

PARIS (AP)—Violence spilling over from North Africa into the streets of Paris jolted French officials today to stern new measures for protecting lives and property in seething Tunisia and Algeria.

Heavily armed detachments of riot police and mobile guardmen stood ready to prevent further demonstrations in the capital.

In Tunis, where a French mob sacked the U.S. consulate yesterday and attacked offices of two French-language newspapers, police took strong restrictive measures.

In Algiers, terrorized by fresh attacks on French settlements, government sources disclosed a new division of French troops was being brought in.

Against this backdrop, French Premier Guy Mollet faced the National Assembly with demands for emergency powers, including the right to impose martial law on Algeria. The government will cast a vote of confidence on the issue Monday. Support was seen mounting for Mollet's special powers bill. Many deputies felt France should make necessary reforms in Algeria but show a firm hand to the rebels at the same time.

The deputies were debating the question when some 10,000 Algerian workers emerged from the Paris Mosque yesterday and began marching on the Assembly itself.

Police cordoned off the Assembly building and arrested at least 3,000 persons for questioning after the swirling mob had knifed two French truck drivers and smashed store windows.

In Tunis, an angry mob of French residents stormed the U.S. consulate and information office and attempted to wreck the files of two Tunisian papers.

An American Embassy source in Paris said the mob had acted on "unfounded rumors that the United States is encouraging North African terrorism."

Baltimore Buses Start Running Again
BALTIMORE (AP)—Foot-weary transit riders boarded buses and trolleys today for the first time in 40 days and found it cost more to ride with the state operating the system.

The first bus left the garage at 3:30 a.m. ending, by gubernatorial decree, the longest transit strike in the city's history.

Strikers were operating the vehicles as temporary employees of the state. Had they refused to work for the state during a period of seizure they could have been fired.

Last Monday, Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin invoked authority voted him by the State Legislature and seized the Baltimore Transit Co. Joseph Allen, chairman of the State Tax Commission, was named to supervise operations.

Allen announced he was temporarily increasing the 18 cent basic fare to 20 cents. The increase will be in effect only until the company is returned to its owners. After that, the Public Service Commission must act on the company's request for higher rates.

If the transit system is still under seizure after 60 days, Allen said, the fare proposals will be reviewed to determine results.

Meanwhile, the company and the striking Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric Railway and tended from leg o' mutton sleeves with covered buttons. The voluminous skirt was fashioned with a lavish pleated terminus in tufted interstitching with gossamer of Chantilly lace. Her finger, illusion veil of double tulle fell mistily from a tiny Juliet cap of satin encrusted with a double love knot of miniature seed pearls centering two rows of pearls across the front. The bride carried a white orchid atop a small white Bible, from which was adorned with pearls tied equidistantly in lovers' knots. Wanzell also carried a white point lace handkerchief, which her mother used at her wedding.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Nix chose an afternoon costume suit of mauve faille, the neck of which was adorned with pearls and rhinestones. Her other accessories besides a white "milkmaid" straw hat and white gloves, were of black patent. She pinned at her shoulder a corsage of Nagasaki camellias. Mrs. Rodriguez, mother of the groom, wore an afternoon dress of coral blue crepe plaid with satin and trimmed with rhinestones. Her accessories were of navy, and her corsage of debutante camellias.

Following the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride's parents. Receiving with the bride and the groom were their parents and other members of the bridal party.

The bride's table, laid with white nylon net over white satin outlined with satin streamers tied in lovers' knots, held the square four-tiered white wedding cake embossed with pink roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The centerpiece was a crystal epergne arranged and filled with pink candytuft, carnations and stock. Crystal chandelabra topped with pink tapers completed the setting in the dining room. The living room mantle held an attractive arrangement of gladioli, carnations, and stock in a brass holder. Floor baskets of wedding flowers were placed at vantage points throughout the home.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Ray Lawrence, who presented them to the receiving line. Miss Jo Ann Wiltz of Los Angeles, California, presided at the bride's book, where guests were registered before being invited into the dining room by Mrs. W. L. Stroud.

Presiding at the bride's table were Mrs. A. A. Albritton and Mrs. Ben Burroughs, of Texarkana. Others dispensing hospitality in the dining room were Mrs. J. M. Sharpe, of Fort Worth, Texas; Mrs. Royce Nix of Texarkana; Mrs. John Britt; Mrs. A. A. Halbert, and Mrs. Rob Jones.

Attired in evening gowns, Misses Paula Ralley, Lyla Brown, Betty Owen, Jane Burroughs, Dana Cunningham, Carolyn Coffee, Judy Moses, and Mrs. Dale Woods of Magnolia, served as hostess in the gift rooms. All members of the house party wore camellia corsages.

Immediately following the reception the couple left for Hot Springs, after which they will reside at 1421 S. Broadway, Fort Worth, Texas. For travel the bride chose a navy blue woolen gabardine suit with navy and white accessories. At her shoulder she wore a white orchid.

The bride is a graduate of Hope High School and is a student nurse at Baylor University. The groom, a graduate of Baylor University, is a student of the ministry at the Southwestern Seminary at Fort Worth.

Miss Hepburn Making Film With Astaire

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD—Oscar winner Audrey Hepburn is back in Hollywood—but not for long.

Though she is one of the movies' most brilliant new stars, Miss Hepburn has made only one picture here. Now she's making another—and singing and dancing in it.

The picture is called "Funny Face," and she costars with Fred Astaire. When I visited the set, she was waiting to make some tests. She plays a fashion model in the picture and looked the part.

Her outfit was a white satin sheath, so narrow she could hardly walk, with an immense drape of pink satin enveloping her torso. A teardrop rhinestone at her hairline gave her an East Indian look.

"No, I don't dance in this outfit," she laughed. "But I do a lot of dancing. I've been in training for it, and it's quite difficult getting back into shape. I haven't danced professionally for four years, and I haven't even had the time to keep up my lessons. I did some when I was here for 'Sabrina' and more recently during 'War and Peace.'"

Those familiar with the Hepburn saga will remember that she started her professional career as a dancer. Her first show, she recalled, was "High Button Shoes" in Lincoln. Her last musical was a revue called "Sauce Figgente," though she did some dancing in a British film she would like to forget.

She'll also sing in "Funny Face"—"though you can scarcely call it that." She has some numbers here, then she and Astaire will do one in the streets of Paris in May. She'll remain in Europe after that.

"I have to do 'Arlene' with Billy Wilder over there," she reported. "Then I expect to do 'L'Aiglon' with Willy Wyler; he's working on the script now."

"I love it here," she said. "They just keep making pictures in Europe, that's all. And I don't know. Europe is my home, you know. Perhaps someday I would like to settle here. But right now I find it exciting to travel."

She and husband Mel Ferrer have rented Anatole Litvak's home on the beach at Malibu. She reported both are recuperating from their journeys from Europe.

Nixon Told to Chart His Own Course by Ike

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower said today he has asked Vice President Nixon to chart his own course as to whether he wants to bid for another term.

At a news conference Eisenhower declined to say whether he would favor Nixon as his running mate if the vice president should decide he would like to try for another term.

Eisenhower said he was not going to be pushed into a corner on a hypothetical question. But he said he has no criticism whatsoever of Nixon as a man, as an associate or as his running mate.

In this first meeting with newsman since his own second term announcement a week ago, Eisenhower also said in response to a question that if at any time during the campaign he decided that his general organic health was not what he felt it should be, then he would go before the American people and tell them so.

The implication was that he would withdraw from the race, but he did not say so in many words.

His remark came in response to a question as to what he would do under such circumstances. In starting his reply, Eisenhower laughed and told newsmen not to hold him to withdrawal from the race for such a thing as, say, a case of the flu.

Democrats to Send Bunch to Convention

LITTLE ROCK—The State Democratic Committee decided today to send 92 persons to the national party convention to cast Arkansas' 26 votes.

That will be effected by splitting each of the delegates' votes and mates' votes.

The number of persons on hand will not, of course, change the outcome—but not all of the delegates, which starts Aug. 13 in Chicago.

The committee authorized Chairman Tom Harper of Fort Smith to call a meeting for selection of the delegation at his convenience.

Harper said the meeting would be soon.

Committeeman Lacy Lawrence of Texarkana, who last year was one of those dismissed from the Arkansas Racing Commission by Gov. Orval Faubus, pressed unsuccessfully for fixing a definite date for the selection meeting.

He told a reporter he wanted to be sure the committee did not wait until "after the governor's race."

The first state Democratic primary will be July 31 and the second, Aug. 14, the day after the national convention starts.

The committee today also appointed the 942 delegates to the biennial state convention among the counties.

Each county gets one delegate for each 400 votes it cast in the last gubernatorial primary. Tentative allocations ranged from lows of 10 each for Newton and Searcy counties to a high of 100 for Pulaski County.

Dates for the state convention won't be set until after the party primary next August.

Hildegard Raps Club Entertainers

By BERNARD GAVZER

CHICAGO—Hildegard, who casually wraps her shoulders in pink mink, observed today that night clubbers are being gypped by imported chanteuses who sing in sweatsuits.

She took time out between shows at a Loop hotel to do a little comparing. She stacked her wardrobe, created by couturiers in the world's fashion centers, against those of Parisian imported competitors who she said perform in bargain basement costumes.

She said she was referring to Edith Piaf, Lucienne Boyer, Patrice and Genevieve. These were not available for comment immediately.

"Piaf," said Hildegard, "comes here in a very black, looks like it cost $9.95. Boyer has a lovely gown, but only a lovely gown, which is like a uniform for her. Patrice has her blouse and skirt, and Genevieve the slacks and striped sweater."

Hildegard, who had her curves encased in a glittering gown made of 24-carat gold fabric, decided to give a reporter a better idea of what she meant about glamorous gowning. She went into another room of her hotel suite and soon reappeared in a fish-tail dress made of pink faille with pure crystal beads on the snug-fitting bodice. The price tag, she said, was $750.

Around her bare shoulders, perhaps to ward off any drafts from panting admirers, she wore a stole—a jasmine mink tinted pink. This heart-warmer, she said, cost $3,000.

Since the days she first began as an entertainer in Milwaukee some 25 years ago, she has spent at least $60,000 on her costumes, she said.

Markets in Nation List Meat Bargains

By The Associated Press
 There's a bountiful list of bargains in pork, beef and poultry in the nation's food stores this week.

Center cut pork chops and roast loin of pork will be featured as specials in supermarkets from coast to coast. Pork prices at wholesale are off about a quarter of a cent a pound from the week before, and meat specialists say both wholesale and retail prices will go lower with the approach of the peak marketing season in April.

Beef prices are about the same as last week at wholesale, but you'll find plenty of marked-down "specials" at the retail counter. Featured prominently are sirloin steaks, rib roasts and top and bottom round oven roasts.

Roasting and frying chickens, turkeys and roast duckling lead poultry bargain specials. One big chain is featuring "turkey parts" this week. Roast duck is a featured item.

Lamb prices are up a quarter to a half a cent a pound at wholesale, but specialists say there will be little if any overall change in the retail price for at least another week.

Green vegetables from the "southwest" offer new variety for dinner menus this week. Moderately priced are broccoli from California, Arizona and Texas, new cabbage from Texas and Florida, and spinach from Texas. All are listed as "good buys" by U. S. Department of Agriculture specialists.

"Good buys in fresh fruits include oranges, grapefruit, tangerines and apples."

Quotations From Folks in the News

By United Press

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower on Vice President Richard M. Nixon running again this year:

"If anyone has the effrontery to come in and urge me to dump somebody I respect as I do Vice President Nixon, there will be less commotion around my office than you have noticed yet."

CHICAGO—Aerophysicist Darrell C. Romick on the possibility of scientists building space stations large enough so that even the families of workers could join them:

"Imagine the view they would have from their living room windows."

MINDEN, La.—Registrar Winice P. Clement on turning down two dozen prospective white voters in Webster Parish (county) because they could not interpret the federal constitution:

"They want the Negroes to interpret the constitution. That's right and it's the law. But if the Negroes have to do it so do the white people. That's only 'bein' fair.'"

NEW YORK—Aatherine Lucy, first Negro student at the University of Alabama who was expelled last week, in denying a Communist North Viet Nam report that she had written criticizing "the United States":

"I am an American and I believe in the American system of government. I am also a Christian and I believe in the teachings of the Christian religion. My understanding is that communism rejects democracy and religion. Accordingly, I have no interests in such an ideology. In my struggle for recognition as an American student, I have approached it in the American spirit and without the help of any enemies of our country."

WASHINGTON—Sen. Robert Kefauver (D-Ola.) on the farm problem:

"I would just as soon be in hell with my back broke as a farmer standing before (Ezra T.) Benson to get either help, relief or sympathy."

Disarmament Policy Is Revised

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON—The Eisenhower administration has drastically revised U. S. disarmament policy to meet what officials conceive to be the needs of the hydrogen bomb age.

Presidential Asst. Harold Stassen told a news conference yesterday he believes the new program will be more acceptable to Russia.

if anyone ever has the effrontery to suggest to him that he dump someone like Nixon, there would be more commotion around his office than perhaps ever before.

As for whether he himself had suggested that Nixon consider standing aside this year, Eisenhower said emphatically he would not presume to tell the vice president what he should do.

Thought For Today

If a man does make new acquaintances as he passes through life, he will soon find himself left alone. A man should keep his friendships in constant repair. Johnson said it.

Home Again Mike Having Trouble

HERNANDO, Miss. (AP) — Home again Mike had his troubles with nervous birds in the National Amateur Quail Championship yesterday but still managed to turn in one of the top hunts of the stake.

Mike, owned by Willie C. Jones of Franklin, Va., pointed five times and on three occasions Quail were flushed.

The two unproductives were attributed to jumpy birds and didn't take too much away from Mike. Merry Apple Jack, a bitch owned by G. W. Crews of Oklahoma City, was also on game three times but had only one clearly defined piece of birdwork.

Thirty-two dogs have now made their bids and the winner should be named next Monday.

Podres Must Report for Army Duty

By JOE REICHLER

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Johnny Podres, star of the Brooklyn Dodgers' World Series victory, admitted today he received his notice of induction into the Army a month ago.

"But I didn't tell anybody about it, he said with a wry grin. "I don't know how it got out. I didn't think they were supposed to tell those things."

He added that his notice called for him to report to Ticonderoga, N. Y., March 15.

The news came as no great surprise. Podres was reclassified from 4-F to 1-A last Dec. 22. He could ask a transfer of his induction to here. If it was granted, he probably would go in the April quota.

"I don't know what I'm going to do," he answered when asked if he would seek the transfer.

He also will be privileged to request another physical examination before he is inducted.

Vice President Buzz Bavasi said the Dodgers would maintain a hands-off policy.

"The club will not lift a finger to interfere," he explained. "We will merely advise the boy, as we do all our young players, when they come to us with their problems."

Podres, who had a mediocre 9-10 record for the regular season last year, became the toast of Brooklyn when he beat the New York Yankees in the third and seventh games of the World Series last fall.

"I didn't figure on him too much from the start," said Manager Walt Aulton, "because I knew this was coming. We should be all right if some of these young pitchers are as good as we think they are."

The Brooks apparently are hoping Ken Lehman, a left-hander, will be good enough to take Podres' place.

GOPs Declare Decision Must Be Bipartisan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans stood firm today for majority vote direction of a projected bi-partisan Senate investigation of campaign contributions, lobbying and improper influence.

Sen. Bridges (R-Mich.), senior GOP member of the special committee, said Republicans are willing to make some compromises. But he told reporters his party's members are going to demand that major decisions be taken only by a majority vote of all eight members.

Bridges arranged to meet with the three other GOP members today to discuss proposed rules to be submitted to the four Democratic later in the day.

In exchange for permitting Sen. Gore (D-Ten) to assume the chairmanship, Republicans had sought the right to name the committee's chief counsel. Democrats balked at this and Bridges said the matter might be settled by selection of counsel.

He said there also is dispute as to whether the chairman should be authorized to examine witnesses in closed sessions before recommending that the group hear them in public.

This would involve use of the committee's subpoena power. Bridges made it clear the Republicans want subpoenas issued only by majority vote.

 Co-host to the meeting was Mr. B. T. Relford of Stuttgart.

The Angry Hills

THE STORY: Mike Morrison, an American, has been caught by the German invasion of Greece in 1941. Innocently he agreed to deliver a list of names to London. Actually it was a coded list of Underground leaders and the Germans will stop at nothing to get the list. Mike memorized the list, but his escape is cut off, and he is in a British uniform, waiting to be rounded up as a prisoner of war.

Chapter XI

A lone German soldier edged cautiously down the road onto the beach and stood before thousands of his enemy. The British stared curiously at the foe they saw face to face for the first time.

"The names," Soutar whispered, "tell them to me."

Mike smiled. "Not on your sweet life."

"No time for that," Soutar said. "I just figure you'll work a little harder at keeping me alive and getting out of Greece, Mr. Soutar."

"You do learn fast," Soutar sighed. "We'll argue about it later."

The German soldier barked an order in a half-frightened tone. The humiliated, embittered men of the late British Expeditionary Force fell into formations, grumbling.

Soutar's all-knowing attitude did much to calm Mike.

"With any luck at all we won't be shaken down again till we reach Corinth. Drop your passport and any identifications first chance you get."

"What happens after we get to Corinth?"

"We're not going to Corinth, mon. We're going to jump the prison train."

The line began to move out toward Kalamaki. German troops appeared, bayonets fixed, and fell in on both sides of the British prisoners of war.

"Stay close to me," Soutar whispered. "If we get separated you are to contact Dr. Harry Thackeray at the American Archaeology Society in Athens."

Soutar shoved a hefty roll of drachmas into Mike's pocket.

Crowds of Greeks gathered around the depot and waited. The guards stretched out in an angry line to keep them separated from the prisoners.

A little girl pushed past the guards and walked toward Mike and Soutar's group. She held a loaf of bread in her hands. A guard curtly ordered her to stop. The British yelled for the child to go back. She kept coming — the bread outstretched for the hungry soldiers. Another order to halt. . . . She moved on. The guard lowered his rifle. . . .

Soutar grabbed Mike's arms to control him. "Turn your head — don't look."

Mike flinched as the shot echoed through the depot. British soldiers in screaming anger broke for the guard. Bayonets and clubs smashed them back into line. The loaf of bread rolled to a stop at Mike's feet. Soutar picked it up. "The least we can do — is eat it," he said.

The door to a cattle car was flung open.

"Quickly," Soutar whispered, "jump in the car first. Get up to the left front side. There's a small opening near the top." He nearly threw Mike into the car. In a second a flood of men poured in after them.

Southern Greece is hot. Especially so from the inside of a cattle car. There was a stink of cattle, soon combined with a stink of sweat. An outbreak of vomiting started. It was impossible to move more than a hand or a foot.

After an hour men began passing out. But they remained standing unconscious — there was no place to fall.

In the next hour Mike buckled over a half dozen times. Soutar rubbed his temples and the back of his neck. When he blacked out Soutar slapped him back to consciousness. Now nearly half the men were unconscious.

Soutar and Morrison alternated in keeping one another alive. There were two dead men in the car now.

Darkness finally came. By now Mike would have jumped off a rocket to the moon.

"We go now," Soutar gasped. "Suppose — suppose they stop the train" Mike croaked.

"They won't risk it for one or two strays. If they stop they'll have a mass outbreak, and they know it."

Veterans Ahead in Augusta Meet

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — A record field of the nation's top women golfers today faced the smooth play of four veteran professionals in the second round of the $5,000 Titleholders Golf Championship at the Augusta Country Club.

Frigid gusts up to 50 m.p.h. yesterday sent scores soaring for many of the 45 entries.

Louise Suggs of sea island, Ga., who has won two of the 16 Titleholders tournaments, and Mariene Bauer Hagge, 5-foot-3 brunette from Asheville, N. C., shared the first round lead with 78s.

One stroke back were Betsy Rawls, former National Open champion from Spartanburg, S. C., and Patty Berg, defending champion and six-time Titleholders winner.

A warning note was the appearance of Babe Zaharias, member of the Ladies' Professional Golfers Association who was flown to Augusta from her Tampa, Fla., home last night. Mrs. Zaharias is convalescing from a second battle with cancer.

Thief Declares Women Very Gullible

KANSAS CITY (AP) — "Women are very gullible," John Lillian Younger said, "and car salesmen are just a notch above them."

The stocky, 33-year-old ex-convict considers himself an expert on both.

He was arrested here yesterday while conducting a young woman to a pearl-gray Cadillac convertible — someone else's naturally.

Police said Younger, whose face has adorned many "wanted" circulars, amiably admitted stealing a dozen automobiles, writing rubber checks here and there, and stopping now and then to charm birds out of a tree.

Women, he said modestly, were apt to go crazy over him.

Officers said he reported marrying a Kansas City girl and bolting after she surrendered $1,600 to him.

There were a few other wives in his past, he acknowledged, and occasionally more than one at the same time. He was hazy on details.

In addition to warrants against him in Oklahoma, Arkansas and Missouri, Younger is also charged by the federal government with transportation of a stolen car and impersonation of a federal officer. Police said he would be turned over to the government for prosecution.

Younger arrived here Sunday from Tulsa, Okla. Flat broke, he persuaded a musician he met in a night club there to sell his guitar and accompany him to Kansas City.

The musician, Frank D. Russell, said Younger promised him a job in a Kansas City night club. Younger ditched him in a tavern here.

After signing reams of admissions, according to authorities, Younger told officers he started his car dealings with a rickety model which he "traded in" by simply departing with a demonstration car, leaving the relic to the dealer.

Younger progressed through the automotive field until he crowned his "achievements with the expensive convertible, stolen in Little Rock, Ark.

Russell, meantime, prepared to hitchhike back to Tulsa.

"The big thing is I miss my guitar," he said sadly. "I believe I was a little stupid."
